Oracle Fusion Inventory Management

Manage Inventory to Replenishment Overview

By Aytan Vahidova

Manage Inventory to Replenishment Overview

In the Manage Inventory to replenishment cycle, and Inventory Manager reviews inventory balances, and establishes an optimal replenishment policy for your warehouses. All the replenishment orders generated are managed and periodic reviews of Inventory accuracy are performed by a Warehouse Operator to maintain optimum inventory in the organization.

Review Inventory Balances

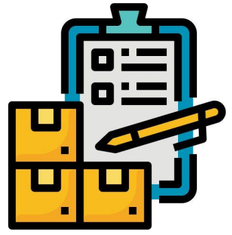
Establish Replenishment Policy

Manage Replenishment orders



Maintain Inventory Accuracy

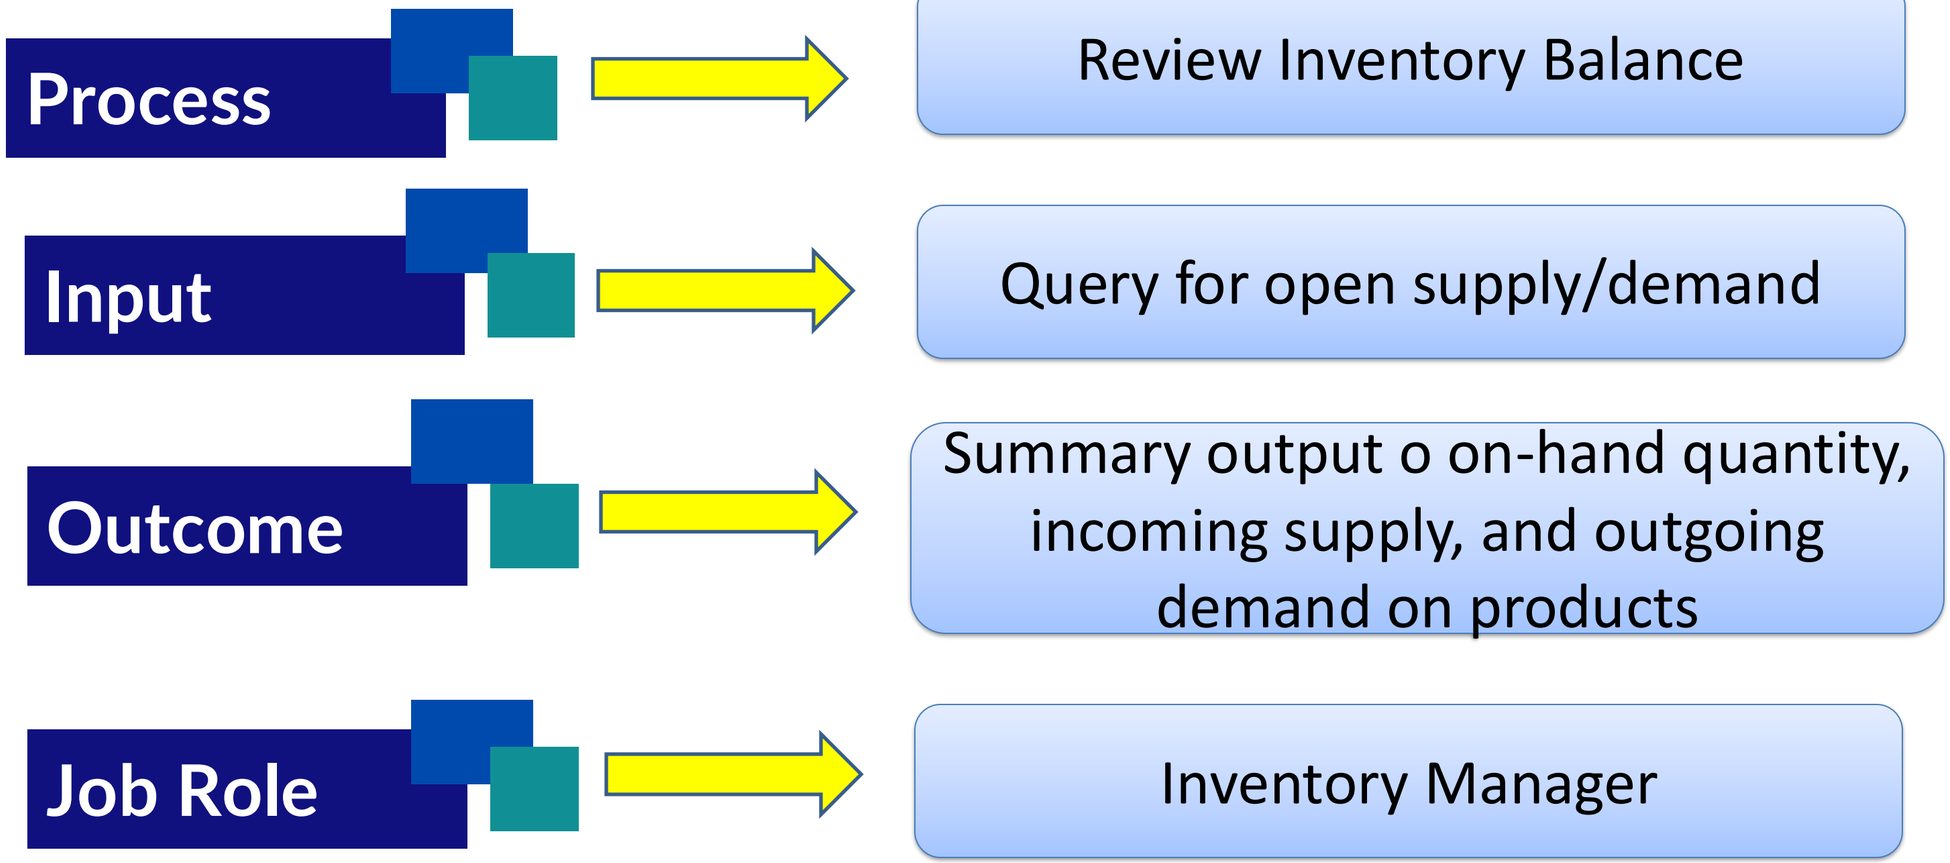
Why are inventory replenishment and accuracy important?

Manage Inventory to Replenishment- provides a comprehensive solution to automate, streamline, and control the inventory flow to meet all these expectations. The activities in this life cycle are outlined in the following diagram:

- Review Inventory Balances
- Execute Inventory Plans
- Create and Perform Cycle Counting
- Establish Replenishment Policies
- Manage Inventory Transactions
- Perform Physical Inventory
- Identify Replenishment Sources
- Define ABC classification

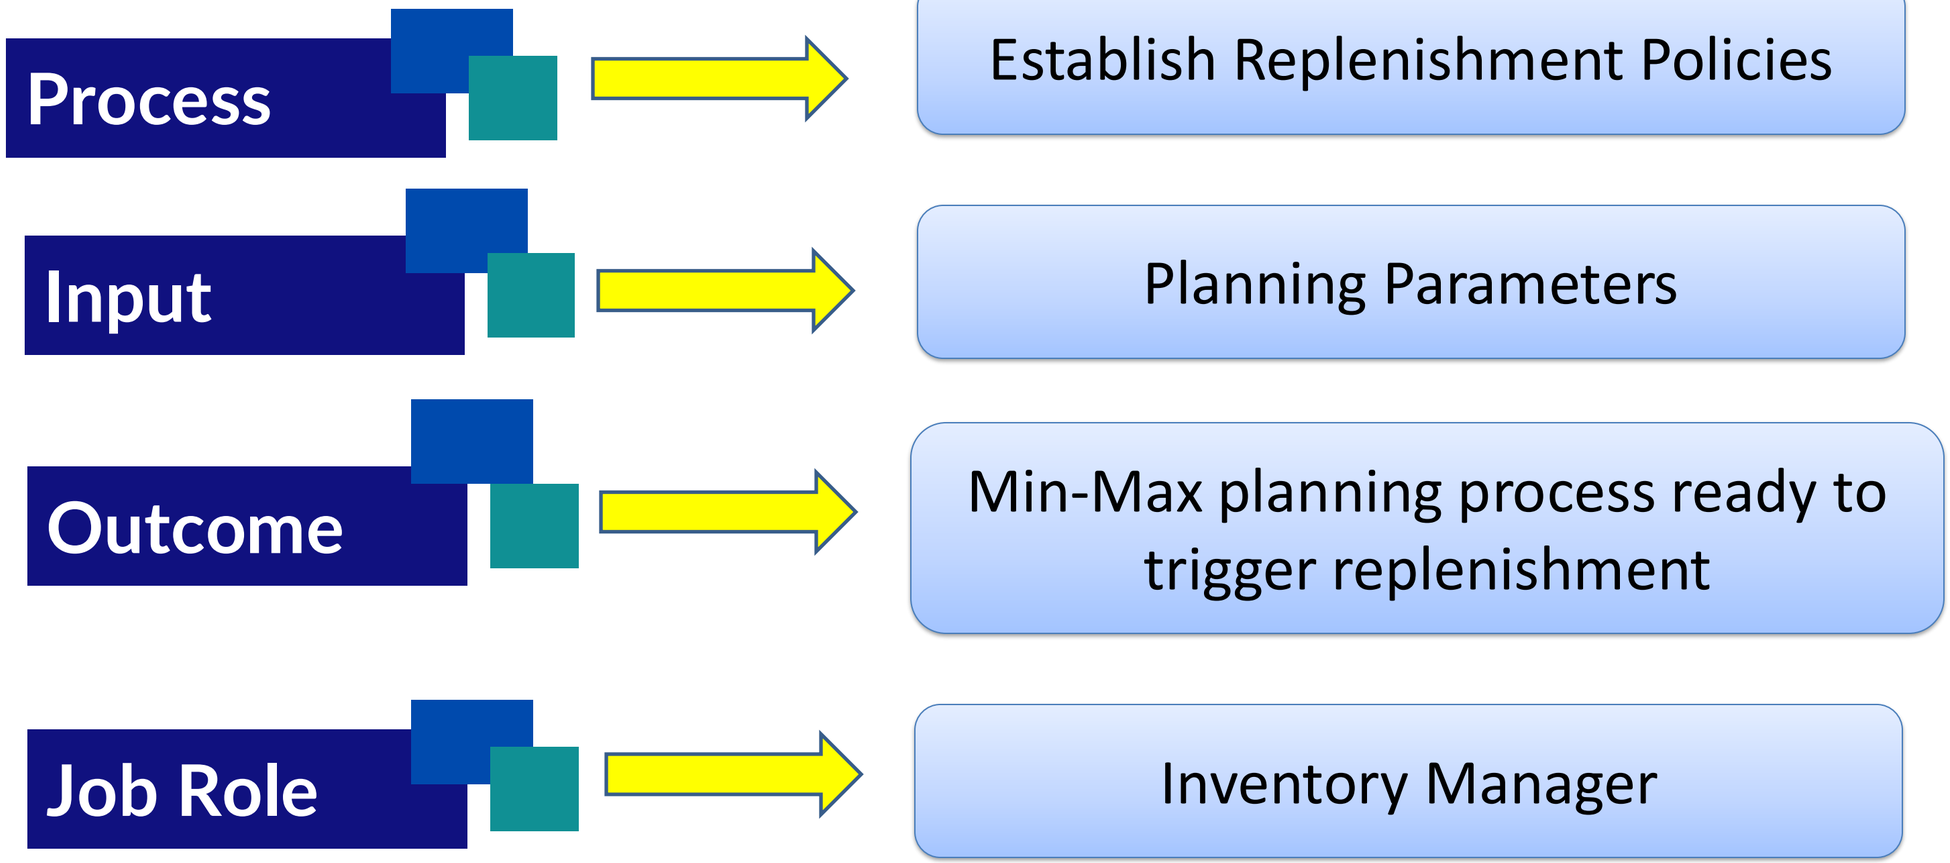
Activity 1

Review Inventory Balances



Activity 2

Establish Replenishment Policies



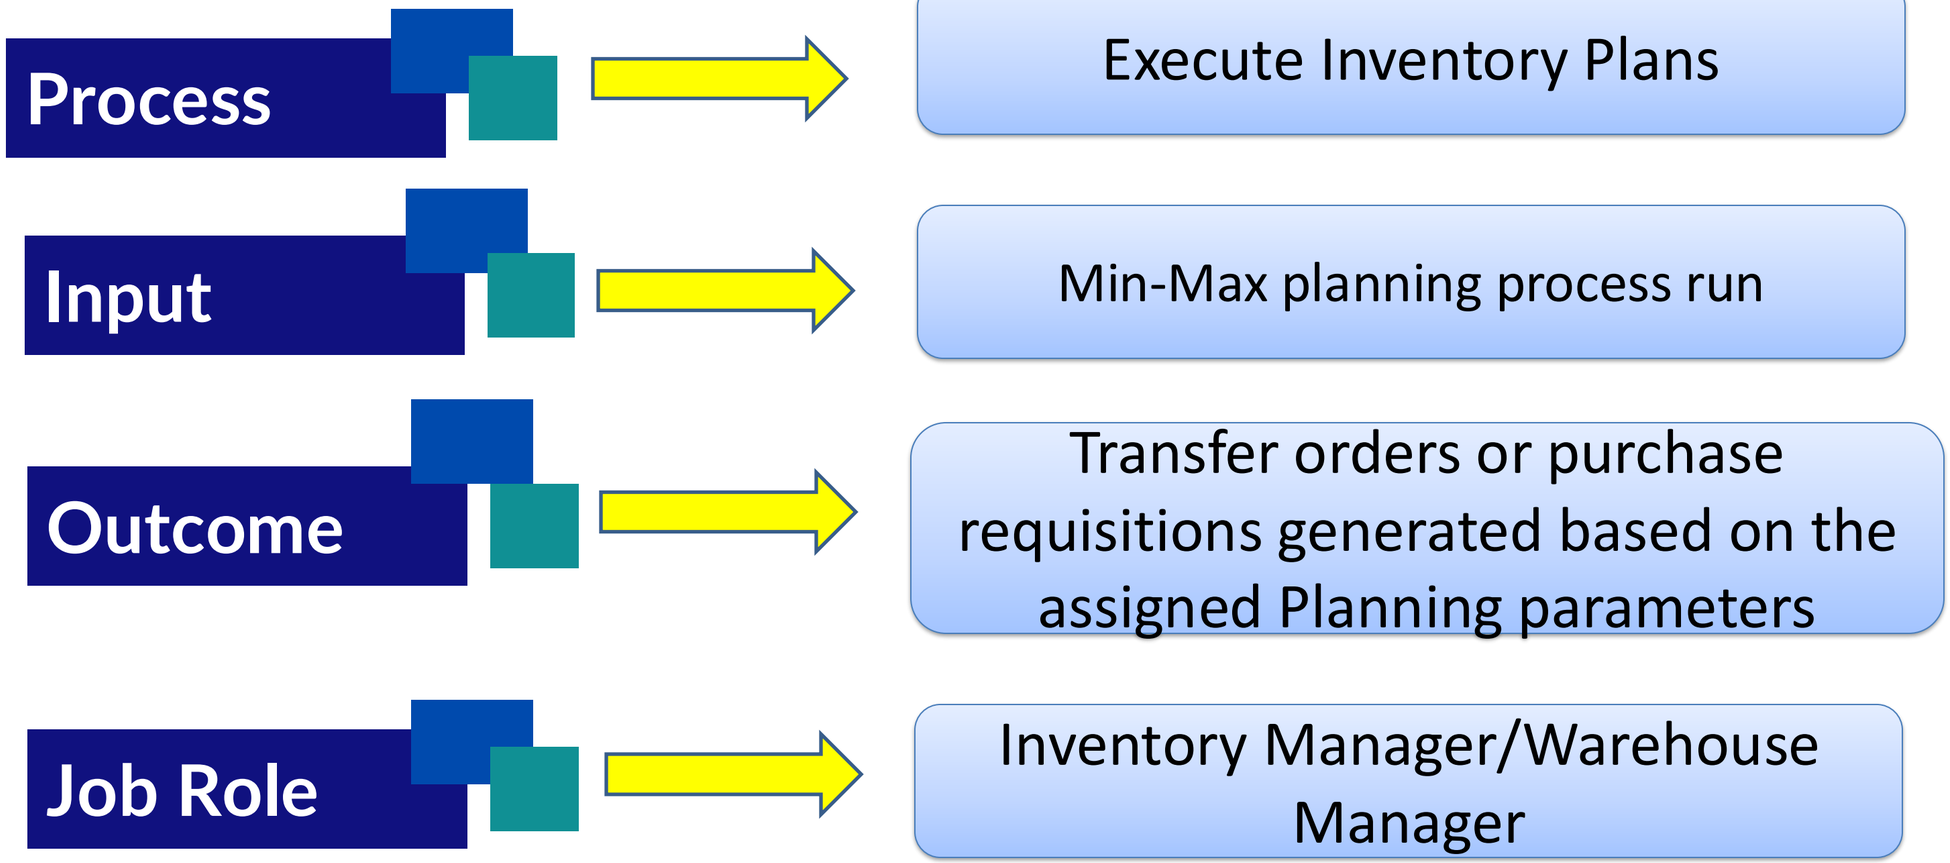
Activity 3

Identify Replenishment Sources

Process	Identify Replenishment Sources
Input	Different source types reviewed from which to request replenishment
Outcome	Right source type for items identified
Job Role	Inventory Manager

Activity 4

Execute Inventory Plans



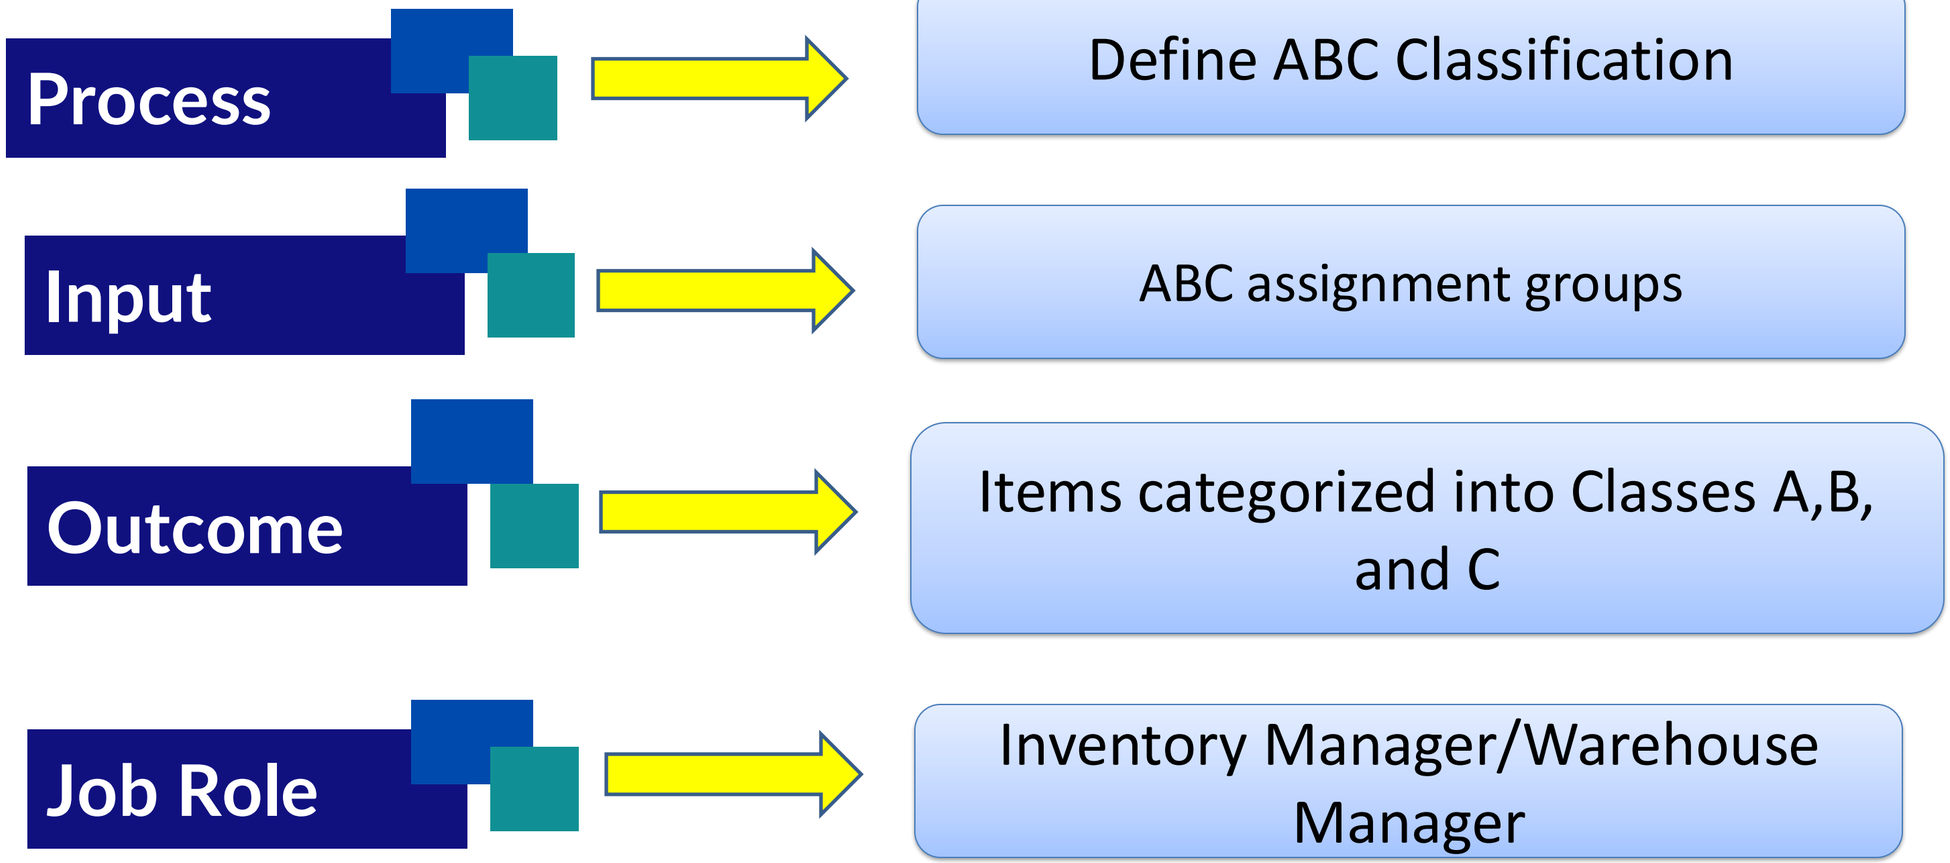
Activity 5

Manage Inventory Transactions

Process	Manage Inventory Transactions
Input	Purchase Requisition generated from Min-Max planning
Outcome	Purchase requisitions imported to purchase orders
Job Role	Inventory Manager/Warehouse Manager

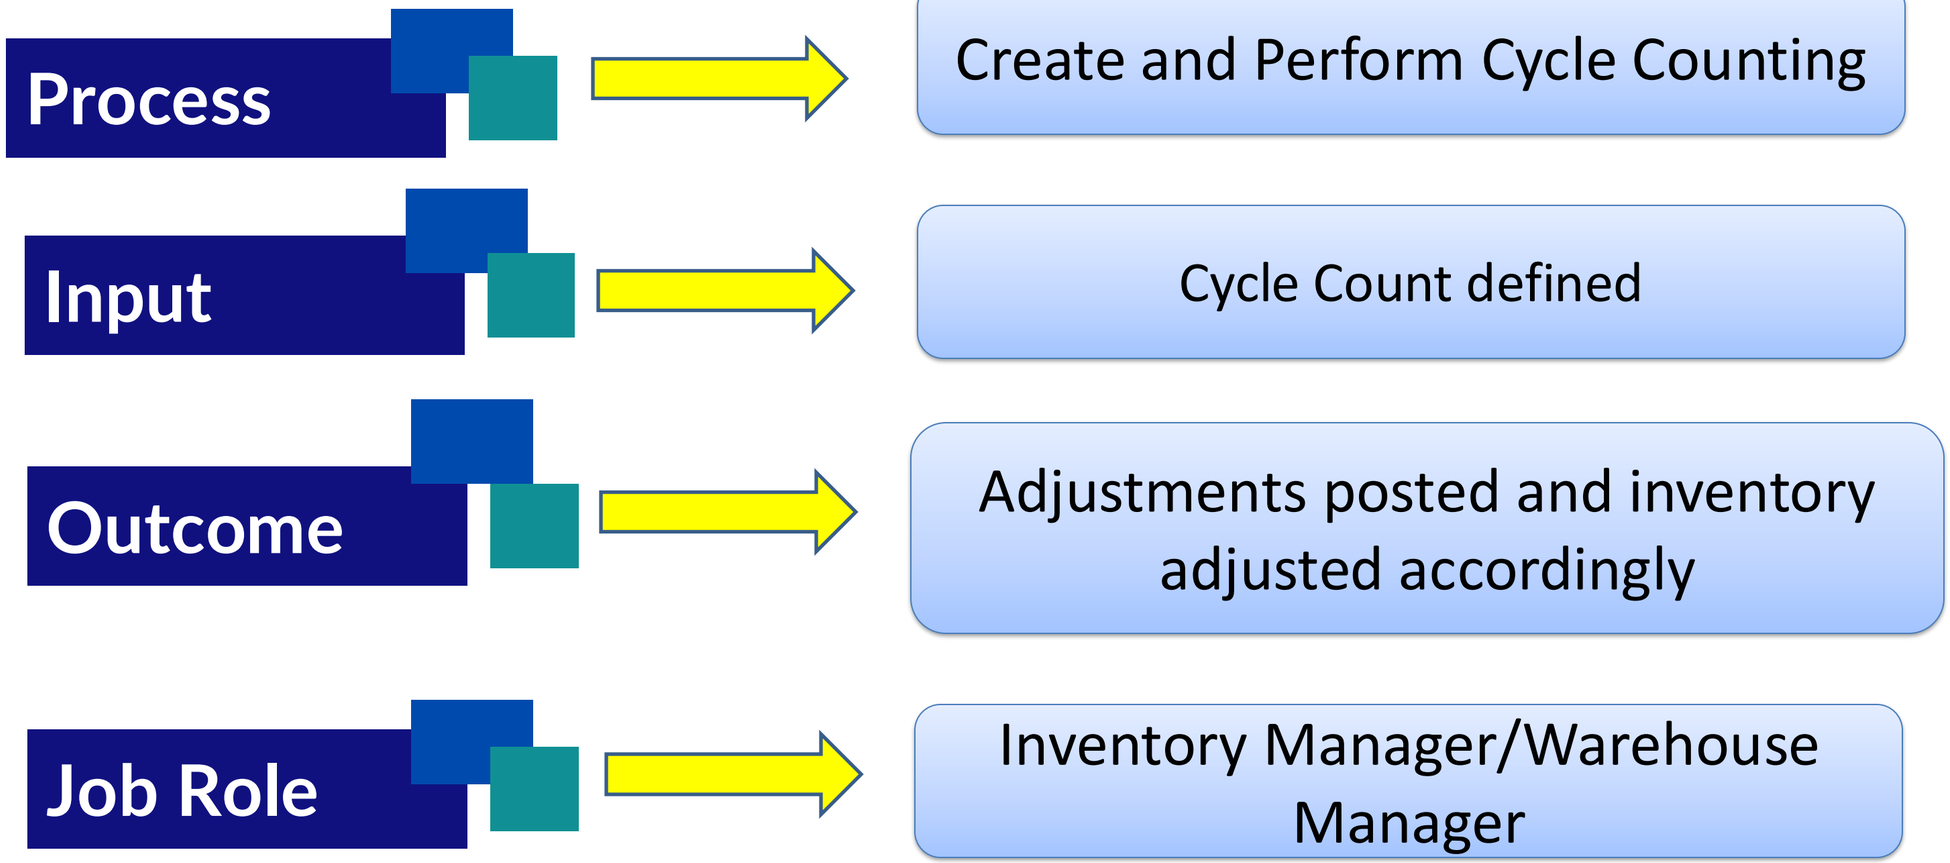
Activity 6

Define ABC Classification



Activity 7

Create and Perform Cycle Counting



Activity 8

Perform Physical Inventory

Process	Perform Physical Inventory
Input	Physical inventory snapshot/Physical inventory tags information
Outcome	Counts approved, adjustments posted
Job Role	Inventory Manager/Warehouse Manager/Warehouse Operator