

MEMO LINES(DIFFERENT TYPES OF REVENUE)

Oracle Fusion Cloud

AMR AHMED
Oracle Financial Consultant

Memo Lines are used when a business has different types of revenue, Lines of Business (LOB), or specific values within the chart of accounts code combination.

For example, consider a tourism company that operates multiple Lines of Business, where revenue accounts differ based on the LOB:

- LOB = 400 (Entertainment) → Revenue Account = 40106
- LOB = 200 (Domestic) → Revenue Account = 40103

In such cases, Memo Lines help standardize revenue account selection and ensure that the correct revenue account is automatically derived based on the business activity or LOB.

Step1: Define Memo Line.

The screenshot displays the Oracle NetSuite user interface. At the top, the Oracle logo and a search bar are visible. The main header area shows a greeting "Good afternoon, Mr. AMR" and navigation tabs for "Supply Chain Execution", "Receivables", "Collections", and "Supply Chain Planning". Below these are "QUICK ACTIONS" and "APPS" sections. The "APPS" section includes "Billing" and "Accounts Receivable". A "Settings and Actions" dropdown menu is open on the right, with "Setup and Maintenance" highlighted. Below this, the "Setup: Financials" section is shown, with "Customer Billing" selected in the "Functional Areas" list. The "Customer Billing" task list is displayed, with "Manage Standard Memo Lines" highlighted.
